FIRST DEBATE WITH CORNELL DEC. 16

COUNCIL SELECTS TEAM

Alfange, Hartness, and Martin to Uphold Negative Against Cornell Debaters in College Chapel—Manager Yates Plans Heavy Schedule

The first intercollegiate debate of the present year will be held in the College Chapel on the evening of Friday, December 16, at 8 o'clock, when Hamilton meets Cornell. Hamilton will uphold the negative and Cornell the affirmative of the question: "Resolved: that the several states should establish a system of industrial courts similar to that of Kansas." Of this question Cornell submitted three issues and Hamilton was given her choice of sides.

Owing to the fact that debate tryouts have not yet been held the team for this contest was chosen by the Debate Council on the basis of their past experience and ability in intercollegiate and classroom debating. The Council selected Dean Alfange, Harold M. Hartness, and Clement G. Martin, all of '22. Alfange will be the leader of the Hamilton team. Advance speeches will be ten minutes in length and rebuttal speeches six minutes. The three judges have not yet been decided upon but will be announced within a short time. President Ferry will preside.

Manager Yates has concluded negotiations for the remainder of the debate schedule, and the outlook is for a busy season for the Buff and Blue. Arrangements have been made for a triangular contest with Rutgers and Wesleyan on March 10. On March 17 the Buff and Blue will meet Union and Lafayette. Then on March 30 the team will go on a trip to New England; at this time Middlebury and Amherst will be encountered on Thursday and Friday evenings respectively. The Amherst debate will be a return for the one here last fall. Hamilton met all these opponents last year with the exception of Cornell and Middlebury, winning from Amherst, Union and Rutgers, and losing to Wesleyan and Lafayette. Little is known of the strength of either Cornell or Middlebury in debate and these contests are looked forward to with great interest. The questions for the triangular debates have not yet been decided upon.

It is probable that tryouts for the spring schedule will be held before the Christmas vacation. Debate suffers this year with the loss of Fry and Rodgers, '21, but it is hoped that new material can be found to uphold Hamilton's reputation in intercollegiate debating.

REHEARSAL SCHEDULE

The following is the schedule of Charlatan rehearsals for the rest of this week:

"The Rising of the Moon" Wednesday at 7:30; Friday at 3:30.
"Bound East for Cardiff" Tuesday at 4:30; Thursday at 4:30.
"A Flitch of Bacon" Wednesday at 3:30; Friday at 4:30.

The rehearsals will be held in the Little Theater.

PROM COMMITTEE ACTIVE

The 1923 Prom Committee, under the direction of Chairman Morehouse, is making rapid progress in its plans to make this year's Junior Prom the biggest social event of many seasons. It has been definitely decided that Prom will be held February 2 to February 4 inclusive. Prom itself will take place in the Gymnasium on the night of February 3.

The committee is receiving estimates from a number of prominent engraving firms in regard to Prom books and programs. The committee desires to know as soon as possible the exact number planning on attending, and would like the cooperation of the college body in this matter.

NOTED NATURALIST TO DELIVER LECTURE

Louis Agassiz Fuertes, Artist-Naturalist, to Give First Myers Lecture of Year Monday—Subject Not Announced

The first Myers lecturer of the year will be Mr. Louis Agassiz Fuertes of Ithaca, N. Y., widely known as an artist and as one of the finest painters of bird-life. He will lecture in the College Chapel on the evening of Monday, December 5. The subject of the lecture has not yet been announced.

Mr. Fuertes was born in 1874 and received an A.B. degree from Cornell in 1897. Since 1896 he has been an artist-naturalist and is probably the foremost painter of birds in the world. Mr. Fuertes is the illustrator of several hand-books of American birds and guides to the naturalist. He has been extensively employed by the State Fish and Game Commission to make colored plates for their annual reports. The American Museum of Natural History at New York and the State Museum at Albany contain exhibitions of his paintings.

NOVEMBER ISSUE OF LIT DISTRIBUTED LAST FRIDAY

New Cover and Alumni Contributions Feature Second Issue of Year—Bixler, '22, and Lewi, '24, Elected to Board

The November issue of the Hamilton Literary Magazine was distributed on the Hill last Friday. The entire composition of the magazine has been changed from last year and a new cover is in place of the one that appeared last month.

Likewise, a new policy has been adopted in this number; namely, the printing of articles and communications by alumni and by members of the faculty. "Your Durned Old Lit" is a communication by H. E. Dounce, '10, a former editor of Lit, and present Literary Editor of the New York Evening Post. W. B. Eddy, '14, described an evening at the German Club with the late Dr. Brandt. J. Howard Berry, associate director of athletics at Hamilton College, stated his opinions on the use of tobacco.

At a meeting of the board Saturday morning Paul H. Bixler, '22, and William G. Lewi, '24, were elected to the board.

There will be an important meeting of the Life Board Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Y. M. C. A.

C. WARREN ELECTED FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

PLAYED FULLBACK POSITION

Will Head 1923 Eleven, Succeeding Fowler as Captain—Never Played Football Before Entering Hamilton

At a meeting of the football team held last Monday afternoon, Carl V. Warren, '23, was elected captain for 1922 to succeed Richard S. Fowler, '23.

Warren has been a member of the football squad since his freshman year. He won his letter last year and this year, playing halfback and fullback. It is a significant fact, and one which speaks well for Hamilton's coaches, that prior to coming to college, Warren never played football. His present ability is unquestionable. Weighing one hundred and sixty-five pounds, he is a reliable ground-gainer, who always hits the line in a vicious way that gains yards for any team. On the defense, Warren has displayed an unusual amount of ability. This year, time after time, he has made timely tackles which have been most advantageous to the Buff and Blue.

CAPTAIN-ELECT WARREN

Warren is one of the most popular athletes in college at the present time. He was pitcher on last year's baseball team and chalked up a no-hit game against Union, the first feat of the kind that has been performed for the Buff and Blue since the days of Steve Royce. Warren is twenty-one years of age and is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Albert Warren of Remsen, N. Y., where he attended the High School. He is a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity.

This year's captain, Richard S. Fowler, has played a memorable game. Dick's performance as defensive center will not soon be forgotten. He won his third football letter this fall. During his first year he played tackle, and last year he played a well-nigh flawless game at center. This year he played center, fullback, and

ALUMNI TO HAVE VOICE IN FRAMING ATHLETIC POLICIES

President Ferry Asks Three Alumni to Serve on Council Following Receipt of Report of Committee of New York Alumni Association—To Coordinate Efforts of Students, Faculty, and Alumni.

REPORT POINTS TO NEED FOR DEFINITE AND CONTINUED PROGRAM FOR FOOTBALL.

For the first time in Hamilton's athletic history, the alumni are to share with the administration of the college in determining and carrying out its athletic policy. This innovation is outlined in the report of the committee which was appointed by the New York Alumni Association last January to study conditions affecting athletics on the Hill.

Having been approved by the executive committee of the Association, the report has been placed before President Ferry and Mr. Prettyman, head of the physical department. Briefly, it calls attention to the need for faculty and alumni support, to help the undergraduates carry out the athletic program of the college. It proposes that three alumni shall act with the president, the head of the physical department, the head of the athletic association, and a member of the board of trustees. The men who have been asked by Dr. Ferry, upon the recommendation of the New York alumni, to serve are Alex M. Drummond, 1906; George H. Sicard, 1903, and Robert D. Fraser, 1908.

They are near enough the college so that they can meet frequently. They will have an active part in framing policies, will advise as to the selection of coaches, to carry out those policies, will frame schedules and will do whatever they can to develop and improve varsity athletics on the Hill. With the assistance and advice of the alumni whom they can summon, it is felt that this co-operation by the alumni will be of considerable influence toward better conditions. The report follows:

Since its appointment by the New York Alumni Association in January, 1921, this committee has studied football in its relation to other organized athletics at Hamilton College, as well as to intercollegiate athletics. This work simply continues and in some respects amplifies, the more or less interested attention which the committee's members have given Hamilton's football over a period of twenty years.

This report is presented now, because

- (1) This is the time of year when alumni interest is at its height.
- (2) The Committee wishes to avoid being unduly influenced by the outcome of games on this season's schedule and is, therefore, submitting its report before the season ends, and
- (3) This is the time to begin plans for next year.

In reading this report, please bear in mind these facts:

- (1) The Committee has neither the ability nor the desire to attempt a history of Hamilton football, nor a treatise on the game.
- (2) It has no desire to be unduly critical or opinionated, nor does it believe that its statements are the last word on Hamilton's problem.

(3) It has omitted details of meetings, correspondence, etc., in the effort to make its report concise and pointed.

Athletic Policy

Football can be discussed intelligently only in its relation to the athletic activities as a whole. Hamilton's policy is based on a foundation which the committee believes to be entirely sound, viz., that every undergraduate should be required to undergo a certain amount of physical training and that so far as possible this should be secured through participation in sports. This policy has been a slow growth at Hamilton, but now the head of the physical department is a member of the Faculty and much progress has been made during recent years, in developing the athletic activities on the Hill. Starting soccer, cross-country running, golf, and hockey, resuming intercollegiate basketball and increased proficiency in track athletics show this progress. The college is fortunate to have at the head of this department a man of the personality and ability of Mr. Prettyman, and the committee here records its appreciation of the support and assistance it has received from him.

There can be a difference of opinion as to the relation which intramural competition in these sports should bear to the intercollegiate activities. It is a nice question, because convincing argument lies on both sides. Some contend that it is far better to have approximately 100 per cent of the students competing in various athletics with a resultant loss of efficiency in development of varsity teams. Others see the varsity as the highest development of collegiate competition and would increase the emphasis laid upon this aspect of athletics. The Committee inclines toward the latter view on the ground that if Hamilton is to compete with other colleges it should do so upon terms of reasonable equality and make a creditable showing. The records of such contests is the evidence by which outsiders judge Hamilton's athletic accomplishments. They rate Hamilton by its performance against opponents of its class and under the present organization of intercollegiate athletics, the opinion will be unfavorable so long as Hamilton teams fail to win their share of games.

Difficulties With Football

Development of creditable football teams at Hamilton has been attended with many difficulties, among which may be named

- (1) Small enrollment and lack of physically adaptable material.
- (2) Inexperience of material due to

A Long Step Forward

Appointment of an alumni committee to co-operate with the college authorities in developing athletics on the Hill is a good thing for Hamilton. For years there has been a lack of co-ordination between the various factors that enter into our athletics. The coaches have done their part; the student body has worked for what it regarded as the best interests of the college; the faculty has helped and the alumni have had a share. But all this effort has been more or less scattered. Not having been focussed on one objective, some effort has been wasted.

The new committee has no easy job in trying to make these forces effective. Its members would doubtless be the last to claim that they will revolutionize conditions immediately or turn all future games into victories. Their experience, however, gives them a background which should enable them to recommend sound policies and with the alumni interest that they can arouse, there is much promise for the future. Undoubtedly they will welcome every suggestion that the alumni and undergraduates can offer. Development of policy may be slow, but all progress is made step by step. The first step—and a long one—has been taken in the appointment of this committee, and it is a step in the right direction.

Captain and Mrs. Charles Hahn of Baltimore, Md., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ethel H. Miller, to Harold H. Reed, '19.

Rev. Leroy F. Ostrander, '94, who has been spending some time in Bulgaria and other parts of Europe, has returned home and is making a visiting tour throughout New York State.

Rev. George H. Rice, '82, after ten years in business, has been ordained in the Presbyterian ministry of Los Angeles, Calif., and has taken up the organization of a new church in the Willshire residence district of that city.

ALUMNI TO HAVE VOICE IN FRAMING ATHLETIC POLICY

the fact that Hamilton has drawn its men mainly from small high schools, rather than from prep schools where players have been thoroughly trained in the fundamentals of the game.

(3) Faculty schedules.

(4) Improper training.

(5) Inexperienced coaching.

(6) Lack of coherent and continuous policy as regards football.

(7) Indifferent student attitude.

(8) Lack of alumni support.

Most of these faults have existed in greater or less degree over a period of years. None of them is peculiar to any given season and many of them trace back to the lack of policy governing football. Hamilton's good teams have been mainly accidental, due to lucky combinations of players of real ability and occasionally by an expert coach. During 12 years ending in 1910, Hamilton scored 534 points to opponents' 764. By and large, the "good old days" never were. Hamilton has never had any sustained record of performance in football. It is true that all colleges have their ups and downs but Hamilton's football has been mainly down. This statement can be amply borne out by an examination of the records, and it is merely an illustration to point out that one of the high spots in Hamilton's football is a victory over Williams, twenty years ago.

Faculty Control

Faculty control of athletics is an established policy and in the committee's opinion, rightly so. It believes, however, that there is still lacking at Hamilton a proper conception of the Faculty's a titude under such conditions. Having assumed this responsibility, it becomes the duty of the college authorities to "follow through", to the extent of giving the men responsible for the development of teams, cordial support. This statement does not imply present opposition by the Faculty to athletics, but rather a lack of aggressive support. The Committee believes there is room for improvement in the attitude of the college authorities and cites the following matters which might be bettered:

(1) More general endorsement of the idea that sports have a definite and useful place in college life.

(2) Arrangement of recitation schedules to permit adequate periods for varsity practice.

(3) Co-operation with coaches to prevent disqualification of players for scholastic deficiencies. (Note: If a player is falling behind in his studies the coaches should be informed so that their plans can be changed or the man given a chance to improve his grades, instead of refusing permission at the last moment for him to make a trip.) These suggestions may be more or less incidental but they indicate the Committee's belief in the absolute necessity for team work between the college authorities and the athletic department.

Suggested Remedies

So far as lack of material is concerned, the Committee recognizes this as a real and serious handicap. It believes, however, that the condition is slowly righting itself through the increase of student enrollment. It has no sympathy with any plan to enlist athletes merely to make a winning team and believes that present tendencies in this direction are a menace to intercollegiate sports. It also believes that the handicap of inexperienced material is severe. This can be overcome only by intelligent and prolonged coaching, which of course shows the need for the very best ability in the coaching staff. Many of the other difficulties would tend to disappear with the creation of a sound football policy and the selection of a competent coach to develop that policy.

The Committee in reaching these conclusions held many meetings, talked with the leading football coaches and advisors on athletic policy in the East and consulted all the interested Hamilton alumni it could reach. It believes that there is little hope in attempting to graft the type of play developed at Yale, Harvard, Princeton and similar institutions upon Hamilton's conditions. It favored, rather, the school of play developed at Dartmouth, which is a fast alert game, in which the players follow the ball, rather than depend upon their physical superiority over their opponents. It believes that Hamilton's hope for ultimate success in football rests upon securing a man who has learned his football under such conditions; who may never have been a star athlete but who is a plodder with a sound knowledge of fundamentals, the ability to teach green players what he knows and the will to stick to it in the face of discouragement. No coach will be successful in one season, unless he is lucky or unusually able, or both. A creditable team at Hamilton will only be the result of several seasons of constructive effort.

Why Football Should be Encouraged

The Committee is strongly of opinion that football should be encouraged because of its beneficial effect upon the players, its possible influence for good upon the morals of the college, its ability to command enthusiastic alumni interest in college activities, its advertising value to the college, and further, because it is a good, two-fisted, fighting game, in which a man is taught to play hard and fair and for the team. Such sports are needed.

To accomplish these results more attention should be given to schedules and proper results will only follow years of adherence to a policy. Hamilton ought to play teams like Rochester, Union, Wesleyan, Amherst, Williams, and win at least as often as it loses. When it does that, Hamilton will come closer to recognition as being on a par with those institutions than is now the case, and those are the type with which Hamilton ought to be compared.

Recommendation

This Committee was instructed by the New York Alumni Association to canvas alumni opinion on this subject and to bring that opinion, together with other relevant information, to the attention of the proper authorities of the college, and to recommend such policy and procedure with reference to football at Hamilton as may to them seem proper. The Committee has carried out these instructions by discussion and expression of its opinions as summarized above.

Events of the present season strengthen its opinion that no progress can be made except through marked stimulation of interest and co-operation on the part of students, faculty and alumni. It believes that those in control of football at the college have a definite responsibility to do either one of two things, i. e., either abolish varsity football at Hamilton or take steps to put it on a basis that will give Hamilton creditable football standing in the college world.

If the first is done, the question is settled immediately. If the second is to be done, your committee believes that the policies already outlined should be adopted. We believe in frankness and we repeat that unless all who should be interested in Hamilton football take the situation and the game more seriously and develop a more generous attitude toward it, progress is impossible.

We believe that one of the most important steps to be taken is to secure the services of a qualified football teacher who can undertake his task for a period of years. Having found the right man for the job, the working out of his relations to the college authorities should follow. It is not easy to secure the services of a man of the right calibre if too many restrictions regarding post season duties, etc., are involved.

We believe also that the proper authorities should appoint a graduate committee of three, the chairman to rank as a graduate manager with a seat in all college committees dealing with football. Alumni opinion particularly in Utica and towns near the college, urges the creation of such a committee. It suggests the names of Alex M. Drummond, George H. Sicard, Robert D. Fraser.

It believes that the committee should include the men most readily available for conference at Utica or Clinton and that acceptance of appointment should include agreement to meet when necessary.

The Committee thanks all who have co-operated to make this report possible. It urges Hamilton alumni in the strongest possible terms to interest themselves in this question and to support any further activities that may be based upon this report, which having been presented, the Committee respectfully requests its discharge.

A CORRECTION

The Hamiltonian board wishes to correct a statement made in a previous issue of Life which stated that the printers of the yearbook were a firm in Minneapolis, Minn. The book is being printed by the Hammersmith, Kortmeyer Company of Milwaukee, Wis.

One-half of the copy for the book will be in the hands of the printers by Christmas. The group pictures are being taken as fast as possible. Cooperation with the board in regard to these pictures is extremely necessary, and any advance sales of books will be appreciated. Individual pictures must be taken by December first if they are to appear in the book.

THOMPSON AGAIN ELECTED

Last Monday morning the cross-country team for the third time honored Watson M. Thompson, '23, with the captaincy. This is a highly deserved honor as Thompson has led the squad in its creditable string of victories during the past two years.

INTERCOLLEGIATES

Dartmouth

The organizer and captain of Dartmouth's first football team, Clarence Howland, '84, was recently presented with a silver loving cup on the fortieth anniversary of Dartmouth's first intercollegiate contest. This occurred on November 16, 1881, when Amherst was defeated by one touchdown.

Yale

Yale men who place in the Yale-Harvard vs. Oxford-Cambridge track and field meets will receive a major "Y". Three "Y's" have already been awarded to men who took places in the international meet last July.

Williams

Plans for a $400,000 gymnasium for Williams have been drawn up and the Trustees of the college are planning a campaign to raise funds for its construction. Williams has long felt that the old gymnasium fails to meet the requirements of a college of its size.

R. P. I.

The best long distance runner at R. P. I. each year is to receive a cup given in the memory of Humphrey, the crack distance man who died last summer. The cup is offered by Humphrey's mother. This year it goes to Clark, '23, next year's cross-country captain.

Princeton

At Princeton there is to be built a new chapel whose dimensions will approach those of a small cathedral. It will be one of the largest college chapels in the world, being only a trifle smaller than King's College Chapel at Cambridge. The cost will be more than a million dollars. The length will be 270 feet and the height 76 feet. When filled to capacity it will hold well over two thousand persons.

According to the Cornell Sun and The Dartmouth, the student newspaper of that college, each of these colleges is looking for a worthy rival for the "big" football game of each year. So the suggestion is made by both papers that the importance of the annual football contest between Dartmouth and Cornell be increased and that, in future years, the game be put nearer the end of the season.

INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION INSTITUTE OFFERS PRIZES

The Institute of International Education is offering a series of three prizes of $150, $100, and $50 respectively for the three best essays on certain subjects pertaining to the Far East, the key to the armament problem. There are three topics from which to choose: The Open Door Policy in China, How Japan is Going to Provide for Her Increasing Population without Interfering with Other Nations, and The Relations of the East and West.

The essays must be written by an undergraduate student in a college in the United States. It must be signed with an assumed name to assure fairness in rating, and should be from 3000 to 5000 words in length, type-written on one side of ordinary 8 by 10 paper. They should be mailed to Margaret C. Alexander, Secretary of the International Relations Club, 407 West 117th St., New York City, before January 1, 1922. The prizes will be awarded on February 15, 1922. Those who are interested will find further information on the Bulletin Board in the Library.

Spice o' Life

Algernon: "See here, old deah, some day I'll give you a piece of my mind."

Al Gernon: "You'd be foolish to divide up a little thing like that."
—Virginia Reel.

Prof. (calling roll): "Smith!"
Smith: "Here."

Prof. (to whole class): "Are you all here?"

Smith: "Practically."
—Punch Bowl.

The Prisoner: "Your honor, it is true that I was speeding, but I can explain if you will give me a little time."

His Honor: "Ten days."
—Tar Baby.

A certain young lady from Ga.
Had the wiles of Lucretia Ba.
She vamped a young man
With demoniac plan
But he stated, "I cannot rewa."
—Record.

First Stude: "What would this nation be without women?"
Second Stude: "A stagnation."
—Burr.

What makes Bibber look so out of spirits?"
"Says he's waiting for his ship to come in."
"His ship?"
"Yes, it's out beyond the three mile limit."
—Punch Bowl.

"The coach told me to stop everything that was hard on my mind."
"Well, what did you stop?"
"Running."
—Lemon Punch.

Woman Tourist: "So this is Alaska!"
Bored Guide: "Nome."
—Sun Dodger.

Mabel: "Bill's been filing all his old love letters."
Lizzie: "Were they as rough as all that?"
—Puppet.

History Prof.: "Under what head are the expenses of a king entered on the books of a nation?"
Student: "Figure-head, I suppose."
—Widow.

"I'm the only student in Greek VII this term."
"Yes, you are in a class by yourself."
—Widow.

Editor: "I've heard all sorts of vacation tales but never yet one about a tent turning to stone."
Contrib.: "Well, that's the truth.
The wind made it rock."
—Malteaser.

Pork: "Why did you name your child Montgomery Ward?"
Beans: "Because he's of the male order."
—Chapparral.

Twelve midnight in a Pullman car.
The silence is broken by a little girl's voice saying, "Dada, are you there?
Mama, are you there?" being answered each time by Papa and Mama.
After a half dozen of these interchanges a deep, rough bass voice broke out, "Yes, dear, Dada's here and Mama's here, and we are all here, so keep still and let us all sleep."
There was silence for three minutes and the little voice spoke again, "Mama, was that God?"
—Trumbull Cheer.

Of peculiar ways of earning a living one of the oddest is reported by a New Orleans attorney.

A colored man was brought into court on some minor charge. The judge, following the usual routine, after asking him his name, demanded:

"What is your occupation?"

"Well, sah, jedge, Ise a wormhole borer in an antique furniture shop."

A jolly young chemist named Bluff,
While making a compound of stuff,
Held a match to the vial,
And after a while
They found his front teeth and a cuff.
—The Pretzel.

PERFECT

Nobody is perfect, except the girl you are engaged to. This Man's Shop renders as perfect a service as pains and brains can make it. We will not sell you a suit that does not fit you; nor offer you what's out-of-date as up-to-date; nor imply, even by silence, that silk-mixed is silk, nor be two-faced and two-priced in our ways of doing business.
